

WOOD WASTE DECREASING.

Properties and Uses of Woods Now Subjects of Careful Research.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY MADE BY MASSACHUSETTS CONCERN.

The waste wood heap continues to diminish and pass away.

A Massachusetts manufacturer of brushes recently made a discovery in Maine which supplied him with material exactly suited to his purpose. He went to the Pine Tree State to buy wood for the backs of hair brushes and the handles of shaving brushes, and chanced to visit the yards of a spool maker who was using white birch. The spool man took the white part of the wood only, and was throwing away the red hearts. Thousands of cords had been burned or dumped in the lake to be rid of it.

The red hearts were exactly what the brush maker wanted, and at little more than the expense of freight he supplied his factory.

This is typical of the trend of manufacturing. Waste of wood is still great, but it is decreasing. What one factory can not use, another turns to profit. Formerly mills threw away half the forest-tops left in the woods, sawdust dumped in streams to pollute them and destroy fish, slabs burned in perpetual bonfires, and defective logs and low grade lumber abandoned as not worth moving.

This policy does not generally prevail now. Some mills have put in machinery to work up their own by products, others sell their waste to manufacturers who can use it.

The United States Forest Service has taken up this study in a comprehensive and systematic way. Investigations of the woods of particular states are being conducted, usually in cooperation with the states concerned. The plan, when fully carried out, will include every commercial wood in the United States, not fewer than 200 species. The properties of each will be investigated, its hardness, toughness, elasticity, durability, weight, fuel value, size of tree, regions where grown, the common names by which it is known in different localities, and other matters of this kind. A history of the wood's uses in the past will be given, and an account of present uses; together with suggestions for a wider range of usefulness in the future by pointing out in what capacities it will serve best and be most valuable.

Notice.

On account of services at the encampment by the chaplain, Rev. F. M. Thomas, D. D., there will be no services at the M. E. Church, South, Sunday at 11 a. m. But all my people are urged to go and worship with the soldiers.

Bro. Thomas will fill my pulpit at 8 p. m. and all are invited to worship with us. Bro. Thomas is a good preacher, and I hope my people will turn out to both services.

Sunday school as usual at 9:30 a. m. We hope to have a large attendance. Epworth League at 7:30.

SOLDIER BOYS ARE IN CAMP

Third Regiment K. S. G. Holding Its Annual Encampment at This Place

EVERYBODY GLAD TO SEE SOLDIERS AND TOWN IS THEIRS

The 3rd. Regt. K. S. G. arrived in camp Monday, 531 officers and men. Company G, of this city, went in camp Saturday morning and worked putting up tents for the officers and hauling the substance stores. The camp is ideally located and has perfect drainage and, from a standpoint of health, could not be better. They will break camp on the 18th., having spent ten days inclusive in camp. These yearly encampments and rifle practice puts the soldier boy in good training for any emergency that may arise. Mr. Jno. B. Atkinson, for whom the camp is named is not in the city, but before he went on his yearly vacation to his farm in New Jersey, left orders that nothing be left undone by the St. Bernard Company to make their stay as pleasant as possible and these orders have been carried out as shown by the number of electric lights and the abundant supply of water from Loch Mary. The boys, up to the present time, have acted in an admirable manner and are to be commended for their gentlemanly conduct. We hope that before the target practice is over that some of the 3rd. Regt., and especially Company G, will qualify for their annual international shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, next October.

Notes.

J. H. Corbett, our local photographer, is busy taking post card pictures of the boys and companies.

Captains W. N. Hughes and M. C. Keith, of the regular service, are in camp with the 3rd. this year.

Companies G and D have the largest number of men in camp, each company having the required number.

Capt. A. G. Chapman has a hobby, i. e. the 3rd. Regt. Band. We don't blame you, A. G., it is the best in the State.

Chaplain Thomas, of the 3rd. Regt. is, with the exception of Col. Henry, the oldest man in point of service in the 3rd.

The soldiers and officers say the camp here is the best situated and the conveniences better than they have ever had.

We welcome the boys of the 3rd. Regt. and hope they will have a fine time. They are a perfect set of gentlemen.

Every one seem to miss that clever and capable officer, Maj. Walter Powers, of Madisonville, who is now visiting friends in California.

The soldiers are the center of attraction in Earlington this week. They are a fine looking, orderly body of men and we are glad to have them with us.

The 3rd. Regt. Band, with 30 men, from Owensboro, arrived in camp Monday afternoon and treated our citizens with fine music on their way to camp.

Guard detail for Wednesday was, Capt. DeWeese of Co. H, officer of the day; Lieutenant of the guard, Lieut. Prather of Co. E.; Sergeant of the guard, Sgt. Gabe of Co. B.

The opportunity to lay the blame of trivial offenses, such as fruit and melon stealing, will not be missed by some people to lay that blame on the soldiers. This is a chance they like to grasp.

Former Lieut. Col. Watts, who served in Cuba with the 3rd., but resigned a few months ago to go into business in Chicago, is now in Bowling Green and will be down in a few days to see the boys.

The 3rd. Regt. Band is one of the best in the State and is greatly enjoyed by the citizens and visitors in town this week. All listen eagerly for the sweet strains of music which fill the air each evening.

The officer of the day on Tuesday was Capt. Gardiner Shanks, of Madisonville, officer of the guard, Lieut. Jones of Co. B; sergeant of the guard, Lawson Miles of Co. G. Everything passed off finely, functions will be held at the camp grounds instead of the vacant lot near Hanna's shop as first proposed.

The soldier boys should not fail to see the game of ball on Saturday afternoon between Providence and this city. Our home team will be the best we have put on the diamond this season and as the game now stands: We have won one and lost one, so this game will be for blood.

The idol of the soldiers, (and especially Company G, our home boys,) Capt. and Adj. Frank D. Nash, is there with the goods. His voice, at dress parade, in giving command, is loud and distinct and is clearly understood at every part of the regiment. We are proud of our officers and enlisted men.

"Pay day, pay day, every one wants pay day." There are no buglers now who can blow that better than the old 3rd. when they were at Lexington Chickamauga. Ask Capt. Chapman and Nelson Lieut. Jenkins and a few of the old boys of '98-'99. The boys will probably be paid within the next few days.

Lieut. Brick Southworth, who has been detailed as acting Commissary officer, had everything ready for the boys on their arrival Monday, and the boys are loud in their praise of the food that is given them. The army ration, when properly cooked and not wasted is more than any one soldier can eat.

One of the pleasant features out at Camp Jno. B. Atkinson, is the Young Men's Christian Association Tent, conducted under the auspices of the State Executive Committee, with Secretaries B. R. Ashby, of the Madisonville Association, and B. L. Roby, of the State Executive Committee, in charge. The object of the tent is to furnish literature, such as magazines and daily papers, free stationery, games, such as checkers, chess, etc., and a comfortable resting place for the soldiers while in camp. The tent is located near the entrance to the camp and in easy and convenient reach of all the soldiers. All visitors to the camp, both ladies and gentlemen, are extended a cordial welcome to come to the Y. M. C. A. tent and rest, and view the troops at parade.

Electric Railroad Planned for Mountains.

Horse Cave, Ky., Aug. 10.—A St. Louis syndicate is projecting a plan to build an interurban electric line between this place and Burksville, Cumberland county, a distance of about fifty miles, which will penetrate a rich agricultural country that has fine timber, coal, oil and other minerals.

There is a distance of more than 100 miles east of this place that there is no railroad connection. The new line will reach Sulphur Well, in Metcalfe county, a famous watering place.

ROLAND RICH SHOOTS WIFE

Domestic Troubles Said to Have Been the Cause of the Tragedy.

RICH FORMERLY LIVED AT THIS PLACE.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 7.—Roland Rich shot and almost instantly killed his wife, Dora, aged 30 years, because of domestic troubles.

The woman was shot in the left jaw, the bullet passing through the lower part of the head and making its exit in the rear of the skull. She lived about ten minutes, but was unconscious from the time she was shot. Rich, to all appearance, was determined to kill his wife, for he shot her twice, the other bullet striking her in the arm. She did not make many outcry after the first shot.

It is said that Rich and his wife had not been on the best of terms. Finally it is said, she told him she would leave him.

Rich begged local officers to protect him while taking him to the county jail and requested them to take him out of town. The officers promised to protect him as far as was in their power.

DEPEW PREDICTS A BOOM.

Senator Says New Tariff Law Will Accelerate Movement.

New York, August 7.—United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew, accompanied by Mrs. Depew, sailed to-day on the American liner Philadelphia. The senator expressed his opinion as to the effect of the new tariff law and the business prospects of the ensuing year. He took a rosy view of the outlook.

"We have, with the aid of President Taft, enacted a tariff law," said the senator, "which will accelerate, what had already been started, the greatest prosperity boom this country has ever known."

MRS. G. R. TAYLOR DEAD.

Mother of Dick Taylor, of this City, Died at Her Home at St. Bethlehem, Tenn.

The death of Mrs. G. R. Taylor, aged sixty-three years, the mother of Dick Taylor, of this place, and E. B. Taylor, of Madisonville, occurred at St. Bethlehem, Tenn., Monday night at 9 o'clock after a lingering illness of stomach trouble. The end was not unexpected for Mrs. Taylor had been in a critical condition for several days and was unconscious most of the time.

Henderson County Republicans Nominated Representative Only.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 7.—The Republican County Committee met here to-day and nominated J. M. Benham as a candidate for Representative. No other nominations were made except to nominate two candidates for Magistrate in districts Nos. 3 and 8.

Hailstorm Destroys Much Tobacco.

Elkton, Ky., Aug. 9.—A terrific hailstorm late Saturday afternoon destroyed about $7,500 of growing tobacco in the Miller's Valley country, northeast of here. Several farmers lost from ten to fourteen acres each.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Pessimistic Talk on Wet Weather Suggests Departments Cellars Are Flooded.

ONE IRISH STREET OF HOPE THERE ARE PLENTY POTATOES.

The Kentucky crop report is of Aug. 1st, just issued at Frankfort by Jas. W. Rankin, Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture, says in part:

Owing to the continued wet weather farming interests of the State have been greatly damaged, and should it continue to rain as it has during the first part of the season crops of all kinds will be damaged very much.

WHEAT. Conditions are very bad at the present time, there being so much rain it has caused a great portion to sprout in the stack or shock, causing the quality to be very poor. The average yield will be about ten bushels per acre, selling at from $1.15 to $1.50 per bushel.

CORN. There seems to have been one of the largest corn crops planted that we have had in many years, with conditions fairly good owing to so much rain, retarding the cultivation to some extent. Some fields not being ploughed more than once, but with rain at the right time this will make a fair yield, but of a poor quality, being light and chaffy. Corn is now selling higher than was ever known before, prices ranging from 80c to $1.00.

OATS. Oats have suffered greatly from the continued wet weather, causing them to fall down and a great many not being about twenty bushels to the acre. Price ranging from 40c to 75c per bushel.

DARK TOBACCO. There was a large acreage of dark tobacco planted, but a large portion has been destroyed by the heavy rains and storms in many counties of the Dark District and showing at the present time not more than seventy-five per cent. of a crop with the prospects bad for this on account of the quality being bad the yield will be cut in half.

POTATOES. There is one of the largest acreages of potatoes ever planted in the State, and the yield is and will be about 100 to 150 bushels per acre, selling from 60c to $1.50 per bushel.

INFORMAL PARTY

Given in Compliment to Misses Robinson, of Topeka, Kan.

Miss Pansy Rule gave a delightful informal party Saturday evening at her home on East Main street for her guests, Misses Anna and Nettie Robinson, of Topeka, Kansas. Dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The guests were Misses Robinson, Elizabeth Kemp and Pansy Rule; Messrs. Elsworth Evans, Miller Fugate, Geo. Bates and Baker Fugate.

Pleasant Outing.

One of the enjoyable social affairs of the week was the picnic given by Miss Pansy Rule to her guests, Misses Robinson, at Look Mary Tuesday. A toothsome lunch was served. The guests were Misses Robinson, Rule, Browning and Kemp; Messrs. Elsworth Evans, Miller Evans, Ed. Majors, Geo. Bates, Henry Coward, Baker Fugate, John Rule and Mrs. Harry Withers, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rule.

COLORED COLUMN.

H. R. DRIVER, EDITOR

The various churches are all doing well despite the hot weather. Sunday schools and all the departments are well attended and much interest manifested.

Pleasant Grove church. Hecla, is in excellent shape and guided by its pastor Rev. J. Metcalf of Hopkinsville. The Sunday School under the Supt. Mr. Russell Wilk's is also doing nicely.

Henry Davis who has been very sick, is able to be out again to the joy of his many friends.

Mrs. Whit Eaves is still very sick at this writing.

The writer succumbed to the heat while at work last Thursday but at this writing is some better from its effects.

Mrs. Boyd Fort, who has been very sick for the past week is now able to be about the house.

Mrs. B. F. Isabel is on the improve she was at the sulphur well last week.

We believe the delegates are all in now so we suggest a delegate association here. No. Walt. Marlon, Henderson and Hopkinsville yet.

Buxton Iowa, must be a sort of Mecca. Everything there, from a peanut-roaster to national bank officers are conducted by colored folks and yet the cry still burdens the air "come over and help us"—run the mines.

S. F. Gill made a flying trip to Olmstead, Ky., to visit his mother, who is very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hunter, of Pittsburg, Kan., passed through enroute to Birmingham, Ala., where they will permanently locate. Mrs. Hunter is sister to R. B. Slaughter of this city.

Mrs. Titus Parker is reported very low as we go to press.

The annual Association of the Baptist Churches of this District convened Tuesday at the First Baptist Church Henderson, many notable divines in attendance.

Little Francis J. Driver, returned from a visit to Henderson, Ky., last Sunday she was very enthusiastic in her description of that city.

Blanche E. and Ben Driver made a flying trip to Madisonville on Saturday.

Fanny and Bertie Dower are visiting in Henderson and from present indications will visit until some time next month.

Miss Izora Shelton who has been visiting Mrs. J. C. Morton has returned to Providence, Ky.

Mrs. Anna Minns, of Colliotown, Ky. is visiting her father and Mother Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morton.

We are glad to be able to report James Guster much better this week.

Dan Jernigan is able to be out on crutches this week.

Mrs. John Jackson and daughter of Erlin Tenn. visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sims last week.

Mrs. Georgia Hays, of Evansville visited her mother Mrs. William Radford last week.

Mrs. John Neely is visiting friends and relatives in Columbia, Tenn.

Mrs. Laura Lytle of Hopkinsville is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Cavanaugh this week.

Secure a Certificate.

Under the law the Western Normal has the power to issue the Elementary Certificate, the Intermediate Certificate, the Life Certificate, which entitle the holders to teach anywhere in Kentucky for two years, four years, and for life respectively without further examination. Information as to the amount of work required for each certificate will be furnished when desired. Address H. H. Cherry, President, Western Normal, Bowling Green, Ky.

Flood Responsibility Fixed.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 3.—Responsibility for the Salton sea floods of 1905 and 1906 has finally been fixed by the United States circuit court of appeals. The ruling affirms the decision of the district court in the case of the California Development company against the New Liverpool Salt company which holds that the intakes constructed by the development company were improperly built.

Workmen Preferred Meal First.

Climon, Mass., Aug. 3.—The women suffragists who are touring the state by trolley had an open air meeting here. The four speakers attempted to detain the employees of some of the mills as they left for their noon hour, but being unsuccessful, postponed the meeting until the working people returned shortly before 1 o'clock. Brief speeches were then made and reading matter distributed. The speakers were listened to with quiet respect.

TO RISE IN BUSINESS LIFE.

Some Few Essentials Must Be kept In Mind, and One of These Is Advertising.

A man may have several carloads of ability. He may have brains and ideas and other desirable things. But all the ideas ever "ideated" will not avail to raise a man who neglects that all important item of advertising. You simply must get attention. Of course, you can get attention by firing off a revolver during office hours, or you can do it by wearing loud clothes and proclaiming your kinship in the sporting fraternity. But most men who have risen from the ranks have carefully neglected to use methods of this kind.

Every office man must act as his own salesman. He must first prepare himself by increasing his efficiency. He must be able to do the work for which he is hired. Not only should he do that for which he is hired, but he must do that work better than it ever was done before. When that item has been attended to it is then time to look about for more work.

The wise employee will keep his eye on the job ahead, or, better still, will look at a job which does not exist, but which should exist for the good of the business. The next step is to think out a selling talk that will get the attention, arouse the interest, create a desire, and bring about in the mind of the employer a desire to do what the live employee desires him to do.—The Bookkeeper.

WAS NOT STRENUOUS WORKER

Youth Forced to Confess That His Duties Were Not What Might Be Called Arduous.

The son of a rich father quit college a few weeks ago—he was in love, he explained, and couldn't keep his mind on his books. He wanted to go to work and make a place for himself in the world. So his father got him on the payroll of a bank in which he was a director. The young man's sweetheart—in her second year at Vassar—kept writing him how proud she was over his independence and asking just what position he held so she could tell the other girls. The young man side-stepped the question as to his prominence in the bank's organization, until, finally, his intended wrote him a peppery letter, saying that if he didn't give her the information by return mail she would be real angry. Then, after much thinking, the youth wrote her this:

"I've wanted all along to tell you about my position and would have done so before had I known myself. About all I do here is to raise a window when I come in the morning and put it down when I leave in the afternoon. The rest of the time I read or watch the others work. I don't know just what you could call my job. Better tell the girls that I'm the draught clerk. That will come the nearest to describing my duties."

Where Caesar Crossed Thames.

Where did Julius Caesar cross the Thames? This sounds like one of the questions set by staid old examiners in search of information they failed to acquire in their youth. There are perhaps as many places claiming to be the site of the famous fording as there were claiming to be the birthplace of Homer. This week Brentford has stolen a march on other places and has erected a monument commemorating Caesar's crossing of the Thames there! Most historians and topographers agree in placing the point of crossing at Halliford at a point known as Cowey (i. e., Causeway) Stakes, and but little support is found for the Brentford theory. To many people a monument is the most convincing of evidence, and though there is little tradition to support the Brentford column, that column will no doubt serve to strengthen the tradition.—London Chronicle.

A Few Suggestions.

To the man who ate too much duck and suffered indigestion thereby, we suggest that he consult a quack doctor.

The man who marries a grass widow must not expect necessarily to live in clover.

Even if you are an Englishman, don't think that "ugging is 'armless. It's 'armful.

Says a poet, "If misfortune overtakes you, smile." Very good advice, but suppose that misfortune overtakes you in a strictly prohibition town?

Never carry your civic pride too far, like the Minneapolis congregation which rose and left the church one Sunday because the minister took his text from St. Paul.—Bohemian Magazine.

As Dr. Johnson Said It.

George Augustus Sala's eloquent testimony to the superiority of English vintners reminds us of Dr. Johnson's outburst after examining a French menu.

"Sir," said he to the faithful Roswell, "my brain is obfuscated with the perusal of this heterogeneous conglomeration of bastard English ill-spelt and a foreign tongue. Bid the rascals bring me a dish of hog's puddings, a slice or two from the upper end of a well roasted sirloin and two apple dumplings."

Up to the Minute.

Mrs. Parvenue—I don't think much of those cheap cars my husband has a reported one.

MRS. MALAPROP OF TODAY.

Modern Rival of the Famous Character That Made Richard Sheridan Famous.

In an uptown social circle it is a matter of gossip that a certain charming young woman never lets her mother out of ear shot because the older woman's conversational transports need to be continually checked. She is rich even for New York, but she outdoes all the Mrs. Malaprops in town.

When she returned from Paris last year some one asked her if she had seen the tulletries. "Why, certainly not!" she responded, drawing herself up majestically. "I've too much sense to push in where I'm not wanted, and if the tulletries had wanted us to visit them they would have called first. They didn't, did they, Carrie?" she asked, turning to her embarrassed daughter. The latter explained to her mother that the tulletries was a palace of the French kings, and that it was filled with works of art, like the Louvre. The mother thereupon rejoined: "Speakin' of works of art, you can break up all the rest if you'll only leave me the helladonna and the dyin' gladiolus. Did I ever tell you of the artist my daughter met in Rome? He went mad over the shape of her hand, and nothin' would do but he should make a bust of it."

The daughter had one thing to rejoice over, however, and that was that nobody this side of the Atlantic would be likely to hear of the message that she had heard her mother send to a visitor by a servant in a London hotel.

"Just tell him," she said, gazing languidly through her lorgnon at the card that had been handed her, "that he'll have to excuse me this time, as just at present I am decomposing on the sofa."—New York Press.

WHAT HE DIDN'T UNDERSTAND

Hired Man Realized That Domestic Birds Were Weather Indicators, But Couldn't See Why.

The city man on the house-suckle-ciad porch smoked and listened to the farm hand's talk. "Weather vane is wind indicators," said the farm hand, "but chickens and turkeys by orins, is wind prophets."

"Come off," said the city man.

"Gospel truth," declared the farm hand. "In a cam, when there ain't goin' to be no wind, the birds alins root on the tree houghs with their heads alternatin' each way—number one faces east, number two west, number three north and so on. That's a sign of cam. But supposin' there's goin' to be a strong high wind. Then they all roost, every mother's son on 'em, facin' it. Accordin' as they face, so you can prophesy the wind will blow before mornin'."

"I figger it out," said the farm hand, "that in a cam the bunch faces different ways so as to look out for danger better. But if it's goin' to blow up in the night, then they face the blow so's they can best hang on to their perch. What I can't figure out, though, is how in the mischief they smell that wind five or six hours before it's due."

Was He Right?

An automobile stood at the curb in front of a theater. It was an imposing machine of burnished brass and crimson leather, and as its owner came out of the theater and was getting aboard one of a couple of children asked with the confidence—or maybe impudence—that goes with innocence and bare legs:

"Say, mister, drive us around the square, won't you? We ain't never been in a nautymobile—"

The man paid no attention and whizzed away. Of course, children are a nuisance, but it would have been worth while, maybe, to give two small girls a memory to last them a lifetime—

And, maybe, again, got himself arrested for kidnapping. You never can tell.—Washington Star.

Brought Her Own Potatoes.

A young German girl who has recently come to live with relatives in America, amused them exceedingly by bringing with her a large box filled full of potatoes, because she is particularly partial to them, and was told that in this country we had only the variety known as "sweet," which did not sound to her nice at all. As her potatoes apportioned on the journey, showing a decided inclination to convert themselves into flourishing vines, she was greatly comforted to find that her relatives could supply the deficiency. This German girl is astonished that, though we seem to value the potato, we do not, as in the case in her country, erect statues to Sir Walter Raleigh, who introduced the plant into Europe.

When Youth Wanes.

Old age has many definitions, and middle age more. But you may take it that you are not really an old man so long as you take an interest in your personal appearance. There is not a nurse who does not know the sign of convalescence when the patient wants to be shaved and put a good appearance in this world. And so long as the man of 60 can take an interest in the latest tie—and the tie he is preserving his youth.

The Sweet Girl Graduate.

Kicker is the conversant with history? Kicker—Yes, her graduating thesis is to be a combination of directors and PDA's.—New York Sun

THE TECHNICAL WAITER.

Discussing in Anoka a certain battle of the civil war, P. G. Woodward, commander of the Minnesota department of the Grand Army of the Republic, said:

"That general reminded me of a waiter in Minneapolis. The general was too scientific. He was too busy with causes and effects, with technical moves and what not, to get results—that is, to win battles."

"So with my Minneapolis waiter in a restaurant I said to him:

"Look at the color of this water. Why, it's not fit to drink!"

"But the waiter, instead of rushing some crystal-pure water to me, took up my goblet, studied it carefully, shook his head, and said:

"No, sir. You're deceivin' yourself, sir. The water's perfectly all right, sir. It's only the glass what's dirty."

MORE IMPORTANT.

"You are the first girl I ever loved," he sighed. "I don't care about that," she replied. "But am I the last girl you are ever going to love?"

Without Doubt.

If incubators worked as well as their ads, say at every turn there can't be any doubt at all. The whole world would have chicks to burn.

He Knew.

"Do you know how to use a chafing dish?" "Yes," answered Sirius Barker. "I have some novel ideas on the subject."

"What are they?" "The best way I know of to use a chafing dish is to punch a hole in the bottom of it, paint it green, and plant flowers in it."

Too Trusting.

The early robin freely acknowledged that as a harbinger of spring it had been a failure this time.

"I was fooled by the boys playing marbles in the streets," pleaded the bird, in extenuation.

For there are times, as Solomon or some other wise man has remarked, when all signs fail.

The highest score that has been reported to have been made this shoot is 116, which was made by an H. company man.

Webb Bros., who secured the contract to feed the Third Regiment, is furnishing them the best class of groceries.

Guard detail for today, Capt. Gans, of D. company, officer of the day; L. H. Tilley of E. company, officer of the guard.

Yesterday was a red letter day for the visitors as the camp was crowded all day. The whole of Earlington was at dress parade at 5:30.

The Y. M. C. A. is being liberally patronized by all the soldiers. This society has been a wonderful help both to the army and navy.

Quite a large number of society people from the surrounding towns attended the regimental dance given Tuesday night at the rink.

Detail for Wednesday: Capt. Wm. Cave, officer of the day; Lieut. J. M. Smith, officer of the guard; Lieut. G. W. Haynes, junior officer of the guard.

The Bee is furnishing the boys at camp with papers from the many different towns throughout the State. They are sent to the Y. M. C. A. tent every morning.

The chief attraction at the rink this week is the singing by quartets of the soldier boys. Wherever they appear the boys in uniforms are the admiration of all.

Out at camp there are several of the boys that are publishers, typists and editors and The Bee extends the courtesy of this office to them. Come in and make yourselves at home.

A number of Madisonville people drive out every evening to witness the dress parade at the camp. This is a most beautiful sight and should be seen by all who are able to attend.

Company L, of Leitchfield, was very much in evidence at the ice cream supper given by the ladies of the M. E. Church, south; Tuesday night. There were twenty-one soldiers in the room and twenty were from company L.

Company M. is from Marion. They are a fine set of men and are enjoying their first experience in camp life. They have fifty-one men and three officers, and are far better than the average company that has been in camp only once.

J. R. Dean was especially complimented this morning, both by officers and camp cooks, upon the quality of fresh meat he is furnishing in large quantity daily. He made the rounds in camp to find if there was any complaints to be made, or if all were pleased. The general expression was that the meat was the best they had ever gotten in any camp.

The targets and target posts at the range were painted by Rev. Moore, of the Christian church, of this city. Each member of the church, that could, was requested to earn money in some manner, which was to be given to the Centennial fund. Rev. Moore secured this contract, which was no small task, and perhaps will turn over a larger sum than any member.

Camp Jno. B. Atkinson, Earlington, Ky., Aug. 11, 1909. General order No. 4.

Paragraph 1.—It is with regret that the regimental commander announces the death of Wm. K. K. cook, Co. B., which occurred at 2:30 p. m. this day. His remains will be taken to his late home, Henderson, this evening.

Paragraph 2.—First Lieut. Homer B. Jones and a detail of six men will accompany the body to Henderson, remaining until after burial, when the said detail will return to camp.

Paragraph 3.—The Quartermaster's Department will furnish the necessary transportation.

By order of Col. Henry. F. D. Rasm, Captain 3rd Inf., K. S. G. Adjutant.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Official Call Fixes August 14 and 16 for Precinct and County.

The Republicans of Hopkins county are earnestly requested to meet at their several voting precincts on Saturday, August 14, 1909, at 2 o'clock p. m., to select delegates to the county convention to be held at Madisonville, Ky., the following Monday, August 16, 1909, at one o'clock p. m.

In addition to nominating a county ticket the delegates chosen at said convention will nominate a candidate for Representative in the next General Assembly of Kentucky. And the delegates from each magisterial district will choose candidates for magistrate and constable. The basis of representation will be one delegate for every fifty votes cast for President Taft at the election in 1908, but in no event shall any precinct be denied representation, which will entitle the following precincts to the following number of delegates: White Plains 2; Nortonville 1; Morton Gap 3; St. Charles 5; Dalton 2; Lake Earlington 4; North East Earlington 4; Barnsley 1; Court House 3; Elk 4; Anton 2; East Hanson 2; West Hanson 1; Old Salem 1; North Nebo 2; South Nebo 2; Silent Run 1; Charleston 2; Dawson 3; Isley 4; Mill 4; Kitchen 3; Manitou 1; Richland 1; Ashbysburg 2; and Hecla 5.

Respectfully,
J. B. HARVEY, Chm. Com.
JOHN X. TAYLOR, Sec. of Com.

But Not the End.

"Folded again," said the chocolate drop, as he was enveloped in his silver wrapping.—Harvard Lampoon.

Weston, Ocean-to-Ocean Walker.

Said recently: "When you feel down and out, feel there is no use living, just take your bad thoughts with you and walk them off. Before you have walked a mile things will look rosier. Just try it." Have you noticed the increase in walking of late in every community? Many attribute it to the comfort which Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, gives to the millions now using it. As Weston has said, "It has real merit."

GOING BACK.

We go back to our childhood
To the dear old days of yore,
When we looked with thoughts serene
On the happiness in store,
Of the royal good times coming,
Just the reach of fife's stern frown,
When the bands were all a-playing
As the circus came to town.

When we hear the circus music,
And the street parade is in sight,
How the blood is stirred within us
By the thought of past delight,
And we crowd up with the children,
With them huddled up at the clown,
Watch the elephants and lions,
When the circus comes to town.

We are striving for life's prizes
With our childish aims and goals,
We are hoping that the future
Holds a golden chance in pawn,
But you'll never be so happy
Though we get a fortune down
As the time when we were children
And the circus came to town.

Birds of Distinction.

The crow and the bird of paradise were talking about fame.
"Why, you are so homely you are only known to the farmers," sneered the proud bird of paradise.
"Now, I am so beautiful I have my feathers on the lists of society women."
The crow laughed carolically.
"That may be, my friend," he chuckled sarcastically.
"That may be, my friend," he chuckled, "but I have my feet under their eyes."

Sorrow's Crown of Sorrow.

Reporter (happening around after the tornado had passed)—You occupy the top flat, eh? And the wind carried away the roof as slick as a whistle, but without hurting anybody. Well, it might have been worse, mam.

Victim—It was worse, sir; a great deal worse. After the storm had gone by I could hear the phonograph on the floor below still grinding away.

His Early Training.

The cub reporter had formerly been a fire insurance solicitor and when the city editor sent him to get the particulars of a prominent citizen's demise he handed in the following:

"Mr. J. Howard Smart, a well-known man about town, died of heart failure at his residence at nine o'clock last night. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss—which is fully covered by insurance."

VERY PERSONAL.

Fat Sailor—Yes, mate, I belong to a ship of 11,750 tonnage.
Wagoner—That when you're aboard, or when you start?

A Tip.

Oh, say, you caw-sawary on the streets of Louisville, if you ever knowed a thing, let 'em know it to a shanty.

AN AMERICAN.

"Don't you wish you lived in England?"
"Why?"
"They imprison suffragettes over there."
"How would that help me?"
"You have a mother-in-law, haven't you?"

Some Charge.

"Roosevelt has got his nerve, all right."
"Nerve, nothing."
"Were you ever charged by a rhinoceros?"
"No; but I've been charged by the gas company."

Feminine Charity.

Him—Miss De Young's complexion somehow reminds me of fresh strawberries.
Her—Naturally.
Him—Why do you say that?
Her—Because, like fresh strawberries, it comes in a box.

Her Size.

The Female Customer—I want to try on one of your latest creations, please.
The Modiste—What size, please?
"Oh, about two bushels, I think!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Would Be All Right.

"Your sister's blunche has the look of one born to command."
"Good thing for him."
"Why?"
"Because she is one of the commanding kind."

Wants to Try 'Eem.

"Looks mighty queer."
"What does?"
"Germany has been building some guns for destroying airships, and now she has invited the Wright brothers to come over there and fly."

Making the Trumps.

"Life," said the unsuspecting young man, "is what we make it."
"Then," rejoined the coy maid, "suppose you make it diamonds and I'll make it hearts."

She—If we women ever do get a vote you can rest assured that we will vote as we pray.
He—What! With one eye open?—Yonkers Statesman.

HONEST, NOW?

If you love her as you tell her,
Would you take
And push a spring lawn mower
For her sake?
If she overlooks your failings,
And responds to all your wailings,
Would you paint the garden-pallings
For her sake?
When the sooty stove-pipe bearing,
Would you smoke?
Beat the carpet without swearing—
For her sake?
If you wouldn't, don't invite her
To the plant—use to with her
For this life would be no brighter
For her sake?

Wish Granted.

"You don't catch me getting too sanctimonious again in a hurry," admonished the youngster in the gray sweater.

"What's the trouble now?" asked the chum.

"Why, I felt so good I started singing, 'I Want to Wear a Crown Crown.'"

"And did your mother take you to Sunday school?"

"No, she took me to the dentist's."

Thirst for Knowledge.

"Paw, is there such an animal as a water buffalo?"

"Yes."

(Pause.)

"Paw, is there a water elephant, too?"

"Oh, I suppose so. Don't bother me, Tommy; I'm busy."

(Longer pause.)

"Does the water elephant carry a steamer trunk, paw?"

A New Tune.

The merchant stared hard at the latest candidate for office boy.

"Well," he asked, "how many afternoons will it require to b. y. g.?"

The boy did not smile.

"My grandfather was buried many years ago," he replied. "But, frankly, sir, I would like to see a good ball game once a week—without any fictitious excuses for leaving the office." He got the job.

Unavailable.

As the pretty girl entered the crowded car an old gentleman started to his feet.

"Pray don't get up," gushed the pretty girl. "Keep your seat."

"Sorry I can't oblige you, miss," answered the old man; "but I get out here."

IN SOCIETY.

Gertie—So you loved and lost, eh?
Bertie—Well, I didn't lose; I got my presents back.

So a Sport.

Wilhelmina's husband said:
"I am going to take a holiday."
"That is fine," she said.
"I shall be home in a week."

Guided Steps.

Bill—I see a recently-patented roller skate which is like a wheel under the toe, slightly raised above the ground and revolving transversely, to enable the skater to stop suddenly.

Jill—Well, it won't stop him any more sudden than if he sits down without trying to.—Yonkers Statesman.

Chivalrous Johnnie.

"What's the matter, dear?"
"I have just had a fight with Johnnie over dividin' the candy you gave us."

"Was there no one there to take your part?"
"Yes'm; Johnnie took it."

Taking His Time.

Bacon—It is said at the present ratio of progress 70 years will elapse before the ruins of Pompeii are entirely uncovered.

Egbert—The "man with the hoe" must be working by the day, over there.—Yonkers Statesman.

Fads and Finance.

Mrs. Gramercy—Why doesn't your church get a minister who preaches the higher criticism?

Mrs. Dorcas—How can we, my dear? We can't afford to pay one more than $1,500 a year.—Judge.

A Clear Conscience.

"Do you ever about the moral of yours?" asked the kindly old man.
"Lan' sakes, no," answered Mr. Erasmus Pinkney. "I should say not. But nule has been so expensive for de las' six years."

Oh.

"How did you feel when he proposed?"
"I sank gracefully on one knee—"

"How ridiculous! What in the world did you sink on your knee for?"
"On his knee, not mine."

An Optimist.

"He's an optimist."
"Still I have seen him meet trouble more than half way."

"When was that?"
"The other day when he went to the station to meet his mother-in-law."

Couldn't Stop Him.

Blox—Newsp is a great boaster.
Knox—That's what. Why, only yesterday he was boasting about how his baby can cry.

OLD SOLDIERS IN SPLENDID REVIEW

ANNUAL PARADE OF THE GRAND
ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC IN SALT LAKE CITY.

CLIMAX OF THE ENCAMPMENT

Veterans March Bravely Through the Streets While Thousands of Spectators
Cheer and Weep—Children in a Living Flag.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 11.—With steps that often faltered, in files whose alignment was not always exact, but with brave hearts and with eyes fixed on the flag of the union they fought to preserve nearly half a century ago, the members of the Grand Army of the Republic today marched through the streets of Salt Lake City in their annual parade and review—the climax of the national encampment.

The parade formed at the beautiful Eagle gate on south Temple street. First in line were the regulars of the Fifteenth United States Infantry, and the entire National Guard of Utah, acting as an escort. Next came the 41 departments of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Naval Veterans, the Ex-Union Prisoners of War, and in earlages the surviving members of that devoted band of women, the Army Nurses.

Scattered through the line were numerous military bands and fife and drum corps.

Greeted With Cheers and Tears.
At the word of command the parade marched west to Main street and turned south down that thoroughfare, proceeding seven blocks between solid walls of cheering men, women and children. As the grizzled veterans passed the enthusiasm was tremendous and many a spectator wept unashamed as he realized that this was undoubtedly the last grand review for scores of the feeble heroes who trudged along behind the flag for which they had given some of the best years of their lives.

When South Seventh street was reached the paraders themselves broke out in mighty cheering, for there they turned in front of the most beautiful feature of the day, the "Living Flag." On an immense stand were 3,600 children dressed in the national colors and so arranged that they made a perfect representation of a waving American flag.

The little ones had been drilled for many weeks, and while the old soldiers passed they sang patriotic airs.

At the Reviewing Stand.
Countermarching, the parade now moved north on Main street back to South Temple street. Here, just to the left of the Brigham Young Pioneer monument and close to Temple square, the reviewing stand had been erected. It was occupied by Commander-in-Chief Henry M. Nevins, then William Spry of the United States, and other officials and a large number of other officials and distinguished guests.

The parade was reviewed from the stand, and at once disbanded. All the bands as they arrived here were massed close to the stand and the celebration of the parade 4,000 school children marched by, the united bands playing and the children singing "Onward Christian Soldier."

The great review was excellently managed in every way. All along the line of march were scattered ambulances, trained nurses and numerous other attendants to care for any of the veterans who might be overcome by fatigue and for spectators who suffered in the crush on the sidewalks. Fortunately their services were seldom needed.

MAYOR "ROASTS" UMPIRE

Augusta, Ga., Crowd Attack Referee While Executive Pleads "For the Skunk to Be Let Alone."

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 11.—Following his defeat in the game in Macon in the beginning of the fourth inning, Umpire Clifford was surrounded by a crowd of several hundred angry spectators and was struck in the face, hit on the head with pop bottles and choked. Police came to his rescue.

Mayor W. M. Dunbar made an address to the crowd, stating that Augusta had been wronged, but for the good name of the city he pleaded "for the skunk to be let alone."

Only six officers were at the park, and reinforcements were sent for. The riot call was sounded and a special street car carried twenty-six other officers to the scene. Forming a cordon and backing the patrol wagon up to the entrance to the park, Clifford was hurried through and placed in the wagon.

Twenty-Ons Skeletons Unearthed.
Anderson, Tex., Aug. 11.—Twenty-one skeletons were unearthed near Piedmont, in an excavation made by the Houston & Texas Central railroad.

Weather Forecast.
Missouri—Fair Wednesday and Thursday; continued warm.
Illinois and Indiana—Fair Wednesday and Thursday; moderate north east and east winds.

STARTS IRRIGATION TOUR

ONE-HALF OF JUNKET TO BE COMPLETED THIS MONTH.

Members of the Senate Committee Leave Chicago to Investigate Various Government Projects.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The senate committee on irrigation started from this city today on a tour of inspection of the various government reclamation projects now under way in the north west. The committee is made up of Senator Carter of Montana, chairman, and Senators Warren of Wyoming, Chamberlain of Oregon, Flint of California, Paynter of Kentucky and Buhah of Idaho. At Billings, Mont., on August 15, Secretary of the Interior Hallinger and Director Newell of the reclamation service will join the committee and accompany it upon its mission.

About one-half the work that has been mapped out for the committee will be completed this month. The Senator Carter.

Inspection will be discontinued then until November, when it will be resumed with Seattle as the starting point.

The committee will arrive at Glendive, Mont., the morning of August 13. That day and the next the lower Yellowstone project will be inspected. On Sunday, August 15, the party will reach Billings, and the next day the Huntley project will be inspected.

Other projects that are to receive the attention of the party, and the dates follow: August 17 and 18, Shoshone project in northern Wyoming; 19 and 20, Great Falls and Sun river project; 21st, Lower Milk river project and Dodson dam; 23 and 24, St. Mary's lake division canal line; 24, Kallispell and Flathead project; 27 and 28, Yakima valley projects.

The party will arrive in Seattle the morning of August 29.

MEN TRY TO KIDNAP GIRL

Attempt to Abduct 16-Year-Old Daughter of Mississippi Planter

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 11.—An attempt to kidnap the sixteen-year-old daughter of Matt Shaffer from the Spokane plantation was frustrated by the girl and her mother and one of the alleged kidnapers is wounded.

Mrs. Shaffer and her daughter were alone in the house at midnight when three men rode into the yard on horseback. They dismounted and tried doors and windows one after another in an attempt to enter, but found all securely locked.

The noise they made awakened Mrs. Shaffer and her daughter. When two of the men were near a window from which Mrs. Shaffer was looking she heard one of them say they could "break in a door and take her out."

She got a revolver and began firing in the direction of the men. Blood in the yard indicated at least one was wounded. Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail.

Human Leg Found on Pilot.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—James O'Connor and Dennis Crowley, railroad employees, were run down by a B. & O. engine, and their bodies mutilated almost beyond recognition. The crew of the engine reported they knew nothing about the accident until they found a bloody human leg on the pilot.

Indiana Boy in Trouble.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 11.—Walter Myer, aged 19, son of a prominent Vincennes, Ind., man, was arraigned in the federal court and confessed to robbing the mails of drafts worth $3,000. He had been tracked to the coast by Postoffice Inspector William E. of Indianapolis.

River Boat Captain Drowns.

New Albany, Ind., Aug. 11.—Captain W. H. Wood, aged 63 years, and a family, came on the hurricane decks of a river steamer all the way from New Orleans to New Albany, where they were killed by the Ohio river here and were drowned. The body has not been found.

Balloon Seven Miles Up.

New Statues in Hall of Fame.
tross, piloted by Lieut. Mina, ascended to a height of 11,800 metres, or over seven miles, which is believed to be the world's record.

Dies on Western Train.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Cyril G. French, aged 67 years, of Worcester, Mass., died of heart disease on a Northern Pacific train near Kent, Wash., while on her way to Portland to visit a son.

Berlin's Women Detectives.

Berlin is to have a corps of women detectives. Ten women have been chosen for the purpose, and will be put to work on cases requiring feminine intuition as fast as they arrive. The police department believes that there are numerous crimes that women can deal with better than men.

Wouldn't Suit Him.

Mr. Highlive (looking up from the paper)—Well, well! Wonders will never cease! They've got so now that they can photograph in colors. Mrs. Highlive (glancing at his nose)—I think, my dear, you'd better get your picture taken before the old process is abandoned.—New York Weekly.

The Apple Country of Europe.
Normandy is the apple country of Europe. Germany is its best customer. The apples which could not be sold were turned into 73,000,000 gallons of cider, which is the favorite beverage of the inhabitants of northern France.

Opportunity knocks once; incompetency knocks all the time.—George Horace Lorimer.

If publishers of local papers print all the copy sent freely and in volume with request for publication by persons who are all working for the success of some worthy movement for improvement of moral, mental, spiritual or physical condition of mankind—publishers would all need to install batteries of type-setting machines and enlarge their papers. It is good to get the matter that is sent out for publicity in behalf of any and every good movement, and the editor who feels anything of the right sort of responsibility for the position he occupies in a community wants to give as much publicity as possible to all uplift movements. And, if his purse were deep enough, how the editor would always like to put all such things in type and disseminate all knowledge. But, with paydays regular and paper and all materials dear, the only cheap thing that enters into the business are the subscription price, advertising rates, advice—which the editor is always glad to get—and the cussing that comes along periodically from some displeased citizen. Praise, when it comes, does not cost the giver and is sometimes worth more than gold—even to the local newspaper editor—but it is too often forgotten, along with the date on which should be renewed "in advance." Publishers would always have cash in the till and a growing bank account if their generous contributions of labor and newspaper space to all good movements were taken at their worth by the community in which the paper is published and these efforts rewarded by the generous and general support which they deserve. The Bee is one of the few papers whose every effort is appreciated, coming back as bread upon the waters, but such communities are rare.

Since the latest street preacher has itinerated through Earlinton there is a new condition to salvation, expressed in this clause of his creed: "Sure as the Bible's true, if you don't quit eating hog meat you'll go to Hell!" Now isn't that hard on breakfast bacon?

NEWSBOYS COIN BROKERS

Boost Price of Lincoln Pennies When Treasury Is "Out."

Washington, Aug. 9.—The supply of the new Lincoln pennies, bearing the three initials of the designer on the reverse side of the penny has been exhausted so far as the distribution at the Treasury Department is concerned.

The word that they "were all gone" was issued shortly before the Treasury building closed today.

Immediately, newsboys, who have been selling them, ran up price. From three for a nickel the figure jumped to two for a nickel, a nickel each, four for a quarter and a dime each. Some asked as much as 25 cents each.

QUARREL CAUSES SUICIDE

Des Moines, Ia., Girl Shoots Herself With Rifle, After Stepmother Had Abused Her Mother.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 9.—Following a quarrel between her stepfather and mother at Harvey, Helen Mattox, a beautiful girl, committed suicide in a spectacular manner. The girl locked herself in the bedroom and arrayed herself in white, knelt down in front of a mirror and pulled the trigger of a rifle.

The bullet penetrated her heart. She was found by her stepfather.

Her stepfather, W. A. Montgomery, is accused of having abused his wife, so that she walked ten miles to Knoxville.

When told of her daughter's suicide she became a raving maniac, attempting to kill herself with a razor.

The family is prominent.

TRAIN GOES INTO A DITCH

Five Persons Injured When Two Cars of Missouri Pacific Train Leave Track Near Pueblo.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 9.—The chair car and smoker of Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 2, for St. Louis, went into the ditch at Avondale, 12 miles west of here. Five passengers were injured.

The Injured:

Ollie O. Moore, Pueblo.
Lloyd Brown, Ordway, Colo.
F. E. Rathbun, Piedmont, W. Va.
Mr. Vergie Martin, Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. L. K. Cochrane, St. Louis.
Mrs. Carson was able to continue on her journey.

The cause of the wreck was spreading rails. The Pullmans left the track but did not overturn.

International Typographical Union.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 9.—The annual convention of the International Typographical Union opened here today with a full attendance of delegates and many others. President James M. Lynch was in the chair. The union's health campaign, the label propaganda, the old age pension and the proposal to establish an insurance fund for the unemployed were the subjects of the convention. For action, which closes on Saturday.

Information Wanted.

Boody—I'd have you know, sir, that I'm not the idiot you think I am.

Knox—Oh, I beg pardon. Which idiot are you?

Might Be Misunderstood.

"The Wrights go back to Germany in the fall."

"Well, Wilbur had better not ask the empress to fly with him."

Pa's Definition.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is a bundle of conceit?

Pa—A woman who is all wrapped up in herself, my son.

Women

Women who suffer from female ailments, frequently neglect their trouble, till a general break-down follows. Don't wait till your case is as bad as that—take Cardui in time. It is a safe, reliable medicine, for all women.

Take CARDUI

Mrs. Rena Hare, of Pierce, Fla., tried Cardui and afterward wrote: "I was a sufferer from all sorts of female trouble, had pain in my side, drawing pains in my legs, could not sleep, had shortness of breath. I suffered for years, until my husband insisted on my trying Cardui. The first bottle gave me relief and now I am almost well." Try Cardui. It will help you.

THOUSANDS MADE HOMELESS BY FIRE

AREA OF OVER FOUR MILES
SQUARE ENTIRELY BURNED
IN OSAKA, JAPAN.

20,000 BUILDINGS DESTROYED

Insurance Companies Fail as a Result of Heavy Losses—Casualties Not Determined—Hospitals Crowd.

Osaka, Japan, Aug. 2.—Confusion still prevails here as a result of Saturday's disastrous fire. Thousands of persons are homeless and hunger is staring many of them in the face.

A system of relief has been organized by the municipal authorities, but it is inadequate to supply all needs. Outside cities and towns are generously sending in contributions to be used in alleviating the sufferings of the homeless and destitute.

The number of casualties has not yet been determined, but hundreds of injured persons are crowding the hospitals.

The latest estimates are that twenty thousand buildings were destroyed, these including banks, the stock exchange, the museum, government edifices and factories. While at present it is impossible accurately to state the losses, these are given roughly at several million yen. It is feared that some of the insurance companies will fail as a result of the heavy losses they will have to pay.

Flames Spread Rapidly.

The conflagration lasted more than twenty-five hours and the burned section presents a deplorable sight. The streets of the city are very narrow and the houses were mostly of wood construction. Under a strong breeze, therefore, the flames which jumped from one to another with great rapidity. Once hope was almost abandoned that the conflagration would be arrested. The firemen fought valiantly against the odds of lack of water and high wind and many of them fell unconscious while working bravely at their posts. Had not the water supply been curtailed by the existing drought it is believed the firemen could have fought the fire off.

The belongings of the people who were able to save anything from their burning homes are piled in great heaps along the railroad tracks from Osaka to Kobe, where they were removed early Saturday morning when the fire broke out. All day long Saturday and far into the night the male population assisted the firemen and the troops in quenching the conflagration.

Famed Buddhist Temple Destroyed.

An area of over four miles square, containing some of the city's handsomest structures, including the Buddhist temple, the largest in the world, was entirely burned over before the fire was brought under control. The stock exchange, which was one of the most important in this country, was entirely destroyed. This loss, it is believed, will tend considerably to dislocate the business of Osaka, which, with its manufacturing concerns, is one of the chief commercial cities of Japan.

CALLED TO DOOR AND SHOT

H. C. Hamilton, Manager of a Flour-ence, Neb., Saw Mill Assassinated by Unknown Man.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 2.—H. C. Hamilton, manager of a saw mill at Florence, a suburb north of the city, was called to his front door and shot and killed late Saturday night by an unknown man. Hamilton and a mill employee were sleeping at the former's office in the mill and were awakened by two men who said they wished to talk to Hamilton regarding lumber bill. When Hamilton appeared at the door one of the men fired three shots into his body from the effects of which he died almost instantly. The dead man was 50 years of age and is not known to have had an enemy. Although search has been made for the murderer no clue has been secured.

New Oliver No. 5

Sets Swiftest Pace Ever

Known in Typewriter Selling.

The wonderful new model, Oliver No. 5, has taken the market by storm.

Its reception by the public has exceeded in enthusiasm anything we had dared to anticipate.

Employers and stenographers alike have welcomed it as the one machine that answers the multiplied need of the hour.

The cry is for Speed! Speed!—and the Oliver responds. The demand for Durability is filled by the sturdy, steel-clad Oliver. To a call for a writing machine that will do many things and do each of them equally well, the Oliver answers with its unexampled versatility.

—Its visible writing saves the strain on eye and brain.

—Its legibility lends beauty to its work. The letters that bear the Oliver imprint are the letters that seem to speak.

—Oliver No. 5 fairly bristles with new and exclusive time-and-saving features. We have space to mention only a few of the more important ones.

—Disappearing Indicator shows exact printing point.

—Balance Shifting Mechanism saves operative effort.

—Line Ruling Device is fine for tabulated work.

—Double Release doubles convenience.

—Non-Vibrating Base insures stability. Yet with all these added improvements, we have still further simplified the Oliver by fusing brains with metal.

—Oliver No. 5 is a dream come true—the dream of Thomas Oliver crystallized into this wonderful mechanism of shining steel that embodies every possible requirement of a perfect writing machine.

The Proper Question.

The man with the glassy eye and preternaturally solemn demeanor put down a sovereign at the booking office at Charing Cross, and demanded "a ticket." "What station?" snapped the booking clerk. The would-be traveler steeled himself. "What stations have you?" he asked with quiet dignity.—London Globe

Disease Carried by the Fly.

Asiatic cholera, so fearful in its ravages, is among the fly's specialties; tuberculosis is another; every disease which begins or ends or endures in filth is his ally; and it has even been demonstrated that the fly carries and deposits, in active and virulent condition, the bacillus of the scourge before which the white man quails in sick and terrified loathing—leprosy.

Baby Morphine Fiends

are made by all soothing syrups and baby medicines that contain opium and narcotics. McGee's Baby Elixir contains no injurious or narcotic drugs of any kind. A sure and safe cure for disordered stomachs, bowels and fretfulness—splendid for teething infants. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Where They Excel.

Where men are natural leaders born, and some are poets made; some win fame through politics, and some get coin in trade. But of the entire earthly crowd, these form but a small slice; for the average man prefers to stand around and give advice.

Seared With A Hot Iron.

or scalded by overturned kettles—out with a knife—bruised by slammed door—Injured by gun or in any other way—the thing needed at once is Bucklen's Arnica Salve to subdue inflammation and kill the pain. It's earth's supreme healer. Infalible for Boils, Uteers, Fever Sores, Eczema and Piles. 25c. at all drug stores.

Three Meals for Six Cents.

The grand jury at Greensburg, Pa., the other day recommended that the amount paid to the sheriff for the daily food supply of prisoners in the jail be cut from 12½ cents to 6 cents for each prisoner. The daily portion for each prisoner is one loaf of bread, two cups of coffee and one bowl of soup, with meat once a week. The grand jury says: "We believe the same can be served at a cost not to exceed six cents."

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physic grips, sickens, weakens the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regula act and gently cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Superior Pineapple in Demand.

One kind of Mexican pineapple, known as the cayenne, is entirely free from spines, and the flesh is much more tender and juicy. These cost up to 75 cents apiece, and the demand is far ahead of the supply.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered three months with a summer cold, so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." For chronic coughs and lung trouble it has no equal. Refuse substitutes. Sold by St. Bernard drug store, Incorporated.

What is the difference between the politician who speaks in a low tone, and the politician who speaks at all? In the one case you are not to talk aloud; in the other you are not allowed to talk.

Take Notice.

If you are all run down Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you, as it strengthens the kidneys so they will eliminate the impurities from the blood that depress the nerves, and cause exhaustion, backache, rheumatism, and urinary irregularities, which sap the vitality. Do not debase or debase. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as it is healing and antiseptic, and will restore health and strength. Refuse substitutes. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Money and Its Uses.

Money is the clothing of a gentleman; he may wear it well or ill. Some carry great quantities of it gracefully; some, with a stinted supply, present a decent appearance; very few will bear inspection who are absolutely stripped of it.—George Meredith.

For indigestion and all stomach trouble take Foley's Orino Laxative as it stimulates the stomach and liver and regulates the bowels and will positively cure habitual constipation. Foley's Orino Laxative cures sick headache and biliousness and on account of its mild action and pleasant taste is especially recommended for women and children. Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store, Incorporated.

The Philosopher of Folly.

"When I hammer a lot of other people," says the Philosopher of Folly, "I'm not displaying intellect. Anybody can do that. But when a lot of other people hammer me, I know I'm of some importance in the world."

Quite So.

Railroad Official—"Well, our road is very much in the public eye these days, eh?" Dismounted Traveler—"All I know about it, its cluders are."

Quality Counts.

It is not the worst liar who makes a hit, but the best.—Life.

Would Be Valuable Knowledge.

An Austrian physician insists that every man has a bad day periodically—a day when everything goes wrong for him and when his mental and physical powers are at their worst. It is too bad that the physician is unable to furnish a chart whereby every man's off days might be readily indicated, thus making it possible for his family to take steps to keep him from buying things on margins.

Disagreeable at Home.

Lots of men and women who are agreeable with others, get "cranky" at home. It's not disposition, it's the liver. If you find in yourself that you feel cross around the house, little things worry you, just buy a bottle of Ballard's Herbine and put your liver in shape. You and everybody around you will feel better for it. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Value of Ideals.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But, like the seafaring man on the deserts of water, you choose them as your guides, and following them you reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

The Crime Of Idleness.

Idleness means trouble for any one. It's the same with a lazy liver. It causes constipation, headache, jaundice, sallow complexion, pimples and blotches, loss of appetite, nausea, but Dr. King's New Little Pills soon banish liver troubles and build up your health. 25c. at all drug stores.

Temperance Lesson.

The burglar who commandeered a bottle of brandy, and by absorption of its contents caused himself to be caught sleeping in the midst of his booty, now understands whither one may be led by the vicious habit of drink.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

A Dutch Auction.

A Dutch auction is the name given to a public sale in which the auctioneer fixes a price upon the article to be sold, above its value, and then gradually reduces it until some one closes with an offer.

Only Lost One.

Mrs. Cynthia Duncan, Georgetown, Ky., says: "I had occasion to use Bourbon Poultry Cure with my turkeys this year and it cured them. I only lost one. Don't think I would have lost it if I had used this medicine sooner." Sold by St. Bernard Drug Co., Incorporated.

Everything Originates in the Mind.

Genius believes its faintest presentiment against the testimony of all history, for it knows that facts are not ultimates, but that a state of mind is the ancestor of everything.—Emerson.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. R. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you, as it has restored health and strength to thousands. Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store, Incorporated.

Promising Youth.

"You don't know how proud I am of my younger brother Jerry," said Mrs. Lapins. "Before he had been in college three years he got his bacchanalian degree."

'Twas A Glorious Victory.

There's rejoicing in Federa, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town for curing C. V. Pepper of deadly lung hemorrhages. "I could not work nor get about," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but, after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, La Grippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection it stands unrivaled. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Change of Evils.

Always Plain to Others.

It never takes other people long to find out when a man is fooling himself.

Less Than One Bottle Did It.

A sufferer writes: "Cau certainly say that Hughes' Tonic is the best chill remedy I ever heard of. Used only part of a bottle, and used no quinine, and it cured me." Sold by Druggists—50c and $1.00 bottles. Prepared by Robinson-Pattet Co., Incorporated, Louisville, Ky.

Beware of Chattering.

Conversation, like bombs, should be taken in moderation. About the only one that can thoroughly enjoy unlimited chatter is a member of the monkey tribe. To talk the clock around generally means words—not ideas.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

A Hopeless Case.

"Why don't you reprove your titled non-law for his reckless expenditures?" "Because," answered Mr. Comrox, "it's bad enough to see him wasting my money without wasting my time."

The Foolish Painter.

An interesting anecdote is told, on the highest authority, in connection with the little Matthew Maris picture of "The Four Mills," which realized 3,300 guineas recently. The late M. Goupil of Paris, paid the artist 100 francs for the picture, and at the same time gave him a lecture on the foolishness of painting such unsalable stuff!

A Splendid Remedy.

D. W. Hart, Flagah, Ky., Breeder of B. P. Rock, says: "I used Bourbon Poultry Cure with my fowls and find it to be a splendid tonic and conditioner. I have also cured cholera with it." Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

First-Class Lawyer.

"Well," said the young solicitor, after he had heard the statement of a client who was about to bring action for slander, "your case appears to be good. I think you can secure a verdict." "That's what I told my wife," said the client, "and yet she insisted at first that we ought to engage a first-class lawyer!"—Exchange.

Tooth Health

Tooth Cleanliness

If friction or rubbing where the only thing needed for thorough tooth cleaning and tooth health, most any dentifrice or a plain brush and water would be good enough. But this would not get the germs of decay.

FORMALDINE TOOTH PASTE

reaches and destroys the germs of decay without in any way, shape or manner attacking the enamel or the gums. When applied to the teeth by a brush it is dissolved by the saliva in the mouth and in this way is carried between the teeth, into decaying cavities and under the gums. A little put on a moistened tooth brush acts as a perfect cleanser and antiseptic even with most gentle brushing.

It whitens the teeth because it cleanses them of all foreign substances such as stains, tartar, etc.

Local Happenings

The little people went on a gay ride last Thursday night. Try the delicious ice cream and cake by the ladies. It will cool and refresh.

Mrs. Pauline A. Jones is still seriously ill at her residence on Railroad street.

Margaret Victoria, infant daughter of Henry Coward, has been quite ill this week.

There are more lady visitors in the city this week than was ever known before.

There is a change in the time of L. & N. passenger service, which is published in another column.

A gay ride was given last Thursday night in a pleasure to Misses Gillmore, guests of Misses Victory. Born to the wife of Clarence Brown, on the 9th inst., a fine 9½ pound girl. Mother and child both doing well.

S. A. Bates leaves this afternoon for McNary's Station to do some plumbing work for W. P. Hahn, of that place.

The Earlington merchants are doing a nice business this week with the soldiers. Those that have advertised in THE BEE are getting the cream.

Maria Mitchell, one of our young operators, is making a record as a baseball pitcher as well as being speedy at the key.

Mrs. R. E. Brooks, who has been in the Woman's Hospital in Nashville for the past month, will return home in a few days.

W. S. McGary is having large crowds at the moving picture show this week. "Wat" knows how to entertain the public.

Chas. Reddick, who is electrician at the Electric Theater, has had several flattering offers from Eastern people. This shows that he understands his business.

Ice cream and cake served every afternoon and evening at the building next to Toombs restaurant by ladies of M. E. Church, South.

Remember that watermelon rinds, potato peeling, etc., thrown around the back yard are very injurious to the health. Keep your premises clean.

Paul M. Moore is the possessor of a new Lincoln penny. The supply from the mint has been taken out of circulation as fast as the people could get them.

Miss Mary Ruby Moutou, of Madisonville, entertained the Misses Victory and their visitors, Misses Gillmore, of Terre Haute, Tuesday evening, with a tea. A delightful time was had.

The U. O. D. C. has lost three members within the last three months and their insurance has been paid in, each case, within 10 days. This speaks well for this enterprising order.

Mrs. Ed. Adams, of Mottons Gap, was painfully injured in a wreck on the L. & N. at Galloway, Tenn., Monday. Ed. Adams, who was with his wife, was not reported hurt. The engineer was killed and the fireman injured.

The ladies of the M. E. Church, South, who are serving cream sherbet and cake afternoons and evenings during the encampment are doing well. The cream is furnished by Mrs. Chas. Ross, of Madisonville, who has recently opened an ice cream factory at that place.

This cream is very fine. All are invited to visit the place next to Nick Toombs' restaurant and be served.

Dick Harrison, who lived here for years, passed through here this morning for Springfield. Mr. Harrison has been very ill for several months and is going to the home of W. P. Anderson at Springfield, Tenn. He was compelled to lie on a cot in the baggage car. Mr. Harrison married a daughter of Thos. Long staff his family accompanied him. We hope that new scenes and surroundings will benefit him.

DELIGHTFUL TEA

Given in Honor of Misses Gilmore, of Terre Haute, Ind.

Monday afternoon at their lovely home on Main street, Misses Elizabeth, Margaret and Katherine Victory gave a charming tea in honor of their guests, Misses Gilmore, of Terre Haute, Ind. The parlors were artistically decorated in golden glow and smilax, presenting a beautiful scene as the daintily gowned guests dined here and there in joyous mirth. A delicious tea with chicken salad, sandwiches, pickles, wafers, ice cream and cake, and mints in which the color scheme, yellow and green, was carried out, was served. A large number of guests enjoyed this delightful affair, including the following: Misses Hendricks, Ruby Rash, Anna Garnett Tate, Johnnie Mills, Katharine Ruckman, Lanna McLeod, Lucile Whittinghill, Lila Bishop, Nannie Kirkwood, Anna Mae Cox Martin, Lucy and Hazel Fawcett, Nell Hendricks, Margaret and Louise McPherson, Sybil Hart, Metabeth Sory, Elizabeth Givens, Elinor Dee Gordon and Mrs. Henry Head, of Madisonville; Misses Martha and Virginia McGary and their guests, Misses Willis, Johnson and Butler, Irene and Bessie Coyle, Zilpah Morehead, Mabel Browning and Elizabeth Kemp, Earlington.

NOTICE OF FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS

In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Kentucky, Owensboro Division.

In the matter of) Bankrupt William Donnelly,) No. 664.

To the creditors of William Donnelly, of Earlington, in the County of Hopkins, and District aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1909, the said William Donnelly was adjudicated a bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of the undersigned at Room No. 5, Kentucky Bank & Trust Building, in Madisonville, Kentucky, on the Twenty-third day of August, A. D. 1909, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time said creditors may attend, prove their claims, examine the Bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Notice is further given that the schedules of the Bankrupt disclose no assets, and unless the creditors appear and choose a trustee, no trustee will be appointed and the administration of the estate will be closed at said meeting.

Given under my hand, on this Eleventh day of August, A. D. 1909,

NIGHT RIDER CASE WILL BE TRIED AT FRANKFORT.

Twenty-Thousand Damage Suit From Owen County in the Federal Court.

Frankfort, Ky., August 10.—Frankfort will be the setting for a $20,000 night rider case when the Federal Court convenes in September. The defendants and plaintiffs are from "Sweet Owen." The style of the case is Crouch against Mark Connelly and thirty-seven others, who are charged by Crouch with intimidating him and causing him to leave the State, growing out of tobacco troubles. Crouch asks $20,000 damages. One of the defendants is a well known Baptist preacher of Owen county.

Deputy Marshal N. I. McDaniel went to a church meeting where the services were being conducted by the Baptist preacher, and rounded up twenty-four of the defendants named in the Crouch suit, all of whom have been summoned to appear in court.

ONE WEAK SPOT.

Most Earlington People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back.

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night.

Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache.

Cure backache and urinary ills. Earlington people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. H. C. Smith, Earlington, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for years. I had severe pains in small of my back and whenever I stooped or lifted, the attacks were particularly acute. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning, I was very lame. I was easily tired, felt languid and was frequently troubled by headaches and attacks of nervousness and dizziness. I knew that my kidneys were disordered, as the secretions contained sediment and were much too frequent in passage. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and received relief from the time I began taking them. The use of two boxes completely cured me. I will recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity."

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE.

Editorial From Courier-Journal August 8, 1909.

From time to time there comes along a substantial testimonial of the South's financial progress. Development is a word constantly increasing in usage in our vocabulary. Opportunities that were once permitted to come and go unheeded are now caught and nailed down. Languid indifference more frequently than formerly gets a jolt from aggressiveness and the Southern business world profits as a result of the encounter.

A striking illustration of this latter-day tendency to curb suspicion of enterprise and welcome Southern progress came recently with the announcement that plans are under way for the organization of a great life insurance company for the South with headquarters in Kentucky. It is significant that the proposition has been received by the many as seriously as it was launched by the few sincerely. Twenty, ten or even five years ago the announcement would have met with scant welcome. To-day it seems to have been received with a cordiality not unmixed with enthusiasm. Men recognize in it an agency of benefit for both Kentucky and the South and consequently a personal friend.

The moment the swaddling clothes were ripped off the Citizens National Life Insurance Company—an organization which is to have $5,000,000 of capital stock and $5,000,000 of surplus—people began to lift up their heads and take notice. Since then, it is declared, letters and telegrams have poured in on the promoters from every section of the South—actually wishing God-speed to the enterprise. That the interest has not been limited to merely verbose sentiment, is demonstrated by the substantial financial support proffered with every arrival of the mail.

The man who is even more than a casual student of current events is impressed when introduced to the magnitude of the life insurance business in the United States. Out of apparently bewildering volumes of statistics he can readily gain, however, a conception, dazzling in impressiveness and particularly useful in an understandable contemplation of the real meaning to the territory south of the Mason and Dixon line of the establishment therein of the proposed Citizens National Life.

It is well to bear in mind that the East in particular has until most recent years enjoyed what may almost be described as a monopoly of the life insurance business. While Easterners have drawn with tremendous profit to themselves the money from Southern policyholders, they must also be credited with possessing increasing faith in life insurance.

In 1873 the total amount in policies reported to the New York Life Insurance Department was $2,068,027.178. This total had increased at the end of 1908 to $10,628,738,785. New York City's life insurance assets aggregated in 1908 $1,725,000,000. Hartford, Conn., has a population of 80,000. It had life insurance assets in 1908 of $260,000,000. Montpelier, Vt., has a population of 7,000, and in 1908 had life insurance assets of $44,000,000, or $6,428 per capita. These figures, however, do not convey their full significance until contrasted with Louisville's aggregate life insurance assets in 1908 of about $2,000,000 with a population of about 250,000.

There is no end to the evidence that life insurance business is profitable for a community. We are wont to turn eternally to New York when we study things financial. One prominent New York company twenty years ago had a little over $6,000,000 of assets. Its statement showed assets in 1908 of $236,000,000, and the assets have probably increased to about a quarter of a billion dollars to-day. Four prominent metropolitan life insurance companies in 1908 had a total income of $337,887,188. Allowing three hundred business days for the year, this means that these four companies alone pumped through the arteries of New York City's financial and business system last year upwards of $1,126,000 every day. Indianapolis, which is only a little over 100 miles from Louisville has something like twenty life insurance companies, and the business in Indiana has been growing fast.

The amount paid for life insurance premiums in Kentucky last year was $7,276,822, and the South is now paying out for life insurance about sixty millions of dollars annually.

Kentucky should have a big life insurance company. It is the first Southern State to offer to policyholders the guarantee of a compulsory reserve deposit law. The statute now in effect was enacted March 2, 1909. It provides that every domestic life insurance company must deposit with the State Treasurer for the security and benefit of all its policyholders, an amount equal to or greater than the ascertained net cash value of all such company's policies in force. It is worthy of note that the men who fought for this law were the managers of the Citizens Life Insurance Company and the same gentlemen who are now promoting the Citizens National Life.

The plan in brief of the Citizens National Life Insurance Company is first to merge into it the Citizens Life Insurance Company. As already indicated, the same when during the past five years have made life insurance history through the exceptional development of the latter company are the guiding spirits of the new organization. The further purpose of the new company is to take over other companies of the South and elsewhere which may decide to discontinue business or may find it more profitable to consolidate with a company of great strength. There seems to be nothing impracticable about this plan, nor does it appear where anything but advantage can come to the policyholders and stockholders of the Citizens Life or any other companies which may be merged into the new company. No doubt the stockholders will see to it that a thoroughly equitable arrangement is carried out for the exchange of holdings in any existing company for stock in new corporation. It is pointed out to policyholders of the Citizens Life in particular—and the same conditions must apply to the policyholders of any other company merged into the big company—that the consolidation will mean to them insurance in one of the strongest companies in the country, and for that matter, in the world.

There are purchasers of life insurance who do not care particularly for a big company. Some on the other hand will insure in no other kind, but no one objects to a big company when seeking life insurance protection. Thus the new company will not only secure business from those who are content to buy insurance from a small company, but to those who want to purchase very large or even small policies and demand great financial strength, it will stand the severest test. But there is a deeper interest and significance to the general public in the organization of a ten million dollar life insurance company in the South and an added local interest when it is considered that Kentucky will be the home office of the company. Mr. W. H. Gregory, president of the Citizens Life and one of the guiding geniuses in the advancement of the new company, has in a recent letter to the policyholders of his own company called particular attention to what might be styled the Southern phase of the situation. The points cannot be well stated more clearly, and we quote from his letter:

"The tremendous power gained by Southern people in the organization of this company is the check it will put on the flow of millions of dollars annually in life insurance premiums from the South to the North and East. I believe confidently that this will be one of the greatest things ever done financially for the South.

"The South is coming to the front. It is making more progress than any other section of the country. Southern people have been awakened to the great power they have, once they band together. Take other lines of business—the cotton mills, for instance. The South once sent its cotton to New England. There it was manufactured and sent back and sold at a goodly profit. The South paid the freight to New England on the raw material, paid the manufacturer in New England a profit on the goods handled and capital invested, to say nothing of the millions and millions of dollars left there to pay Northern labor. But it is changing the order of things. The capital of twenty-one millions once invested in cotton mills in the South has in recent years increased to three hundred millions. The people of the South at one time did not appreciate just what the cotton crop amounted to, and I dare say some do not know that every pound this country has experienced in years has been checked and stopped by the cotton crop. The people who raise cotton are a power. And they are beginning to realize it. And, likewise, Southern people are beginning to realize their power in the insurance world.

"The thing that we wish to accomplish now is to have a company strong enough to take care of the immense volume of business in the South. You can appreciate just what that means. At the time the Citizens Life was organized, the Southern life insurance companies had practically no business on their books. You may be surprised, for when they were organized,

Southern companies to-day are carrying nearly one-third of a billion of dollars of life insurance. The amount is stupendous, yet it is only about 8 per cent of the total amount of insurance carried in the United States.

"The big banks of the North and East have been built up largely by life insurance money, with the South all these years paying the freight, as it were, and the banks themselves have in turn been a powerful factor in the commercial development of the North and East. Yet the South pays out enough money each year in premiums for life insurance to build up some of the strongest banks in the world in the South."

The business associates and the friends of Mr. Gregory, Mr. Helm Bruce, Mr. Charles D. Pearce and the other gentlemen who are striving industriously for the success of this great enterprise have confidence in their ability to carry it out. Kentucky will apparently have every good reason to pride herself on being able to furnish the home for the company. But greatest good will come to the largest number by people of the South being able to lay proud claim to one more great and powerful institution, destined to go through generations to Southland development and enterprise.

SECRET COULD NOT BE KEPT

Everybody Seemed to Know That This Couple Were Newly United in Matrimony.

A Boston young man had married a Chicago girl, and they had started on their wedding tour. Despite—or perhaps because of—their studied efforts to appear like "old married folks," their fellow passengers on the railway train had no difficulty in classing them as bride and groom, and manifested their knowledge by winks, nods and grins.

An unfortunate accident to the dining car compelled the conductor to leave it on the sidetrack at a small station, and it was several hours before the train stopped for refreshments at a town where there was a restaurant near the passenger station.

It was by no means a first-class restaurant, but the travelers had a first-class appetite and they swarmed into it. With some difficulty the bride and groom found seats and presently a waitress came to take their order.

"Where's your bill of fare?" asked the young man.

"We haven't any to-day, sir," she answered.

"For any other day perhaps?"

"No, sir."

"Well, what have you that you can recommend as being good to eat?"

"We have some nice pork and beans."

"Alfred," whispered the bride, "everybody seems to know that we have just been married, but how do you suppose this girl has found out that I am from Chicago and that you are from Boston?"—Youth's Companion.

SLEEP FOR THE SLEEPLESS.

How a French Specialist Goes to Work to Woo Slumber for His Wide-Awake Patients.

A French specialist has come to the rescue of persons afflicted with insomnia. His method is somewhat vaguely described as "lulling the wideawakes to unconsciousness much as babies are put to slumber."

"It is a perfect palace of peace that he has opened in lovely Touraine," says the Lady's Pictorial. "Here is never a disturbing sound. The silence is broken only by the absolutely monotonous and soothing tick, tick, tick of solid grandfather clocks, and the scarcely perceptible drip of unseen fountains.

"Everything is seen through a cerulean haze, everybody moves in list slippers, the air is fresh but full of faint perfume. Before the eyes of very refractory patients slowly revolve colored balls, not the smallest rose leaf being allowed to crumple in any bed, each being so designed that there is no possibility of the body growing weary. Here, in fact, the wooing of sleep has been made a positive science, and it is said no one can keep awake here, however hard he may try."

Dog's Remarkable Intelligence.

Thomas Jones, who owns a big ranch on San Juan Island, lost a collie dog last fall for nearly a month, and for several days searched the woods about his place zealously for the animal, without success. One day he tossed a bone to another collie. Instead of gnawing it, he picked it up and, started for the woods. He kept turning his head, apparently to see if he was followed, and Jones concluded to follow him. The dog trotted along for about a mile and stopped at the edge of an abandoned well. He dropped the bone over the edge of the well. Jones got a ladder, climbed down and found the dog that had been lost. There was only about two inches of water in the well, but the animal would have starved to death had it not been for the other. The lost dog was in good condition, and as it had been missing 24 days the other animal must have kept it supplied with food for nearly a month.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS ON

GREAT NATIONAL GATHERING AT SPOKANE, WASH.

Attended by Thousands of Delegates and Others Interested in Reclaiming the Deserts—4,000 Attend.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 9.—"Save the forests, store the floods, reclaim the deserts and make homes on the land," is the watchword of the National Irrigation Congress which opened here today. The meeting has attracted apostles of irrigation, deep waterways, good roads and conservation of resources, and recruits from various parts of this continent, England, Germany, France, Hawaii, the President G. E. Barstow.

Philippine Islands, the Latin republics and China and Japan, representatives of foreign nations and colonial governments, officials of the federal reclamation, forestry and agricultural departments, governors and members of state and territorial legislatures, railroad and bank presidents and members of agricultural, horticultural, commercial and fraternal organizations.

Arrangements have been made for the entertainment of about 4,000 accredited delegates, and thousands of other visitors are coming in from the irrigated districts of the west and of British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba.

President George E. Barstow, of Barstow, Tex., presides over the sessions, and the secretary is B. A. Fowler, of Phoenix, Ariz.

The regular program consists of addresses by officials of the reclamation, forestry and agricultural departments of the United States, statesmen and scientists, railroad and financial men, promoters of the Carey act reclamation projects and officials of private irrigation enterprises.

The federal department of agriculture has taken charge of a 20-acre tract of land in the Spokane valley, where the latest approved methods of supplying the soil with moisture by artificial means are being demonstrated by irrigation experts.

Parades, banquets, receptions and excursions are the entertainment features on the program. The congress closes Saturday.

"Yes—he isn't."
"Why, he says he wins from you every time you play together."
"Of course he does, but wait until you see what I do to papa when you and me are safely married."

Aroused Curiosity.

"Beg pardon," said the hotel clerk, "but what is your name?"
"Name!" echoed the indignant guest, who had just registered. "Don't you see my signature there on the register?"
"I do," answered the clerk, calmly. "That is what aroused my curiosity."

THE STATE FAIR

Kentucky People All Agog
Over Coming Event.

A HANDSOME PRIZE LIST

Thirty Thousand Dollars Offered in Prizes for Week of September 13th to 18th.

Details of Some of the Chief Attractions to Be Presented This Year.

Thirty thousand dollars makes a very handsome prize list. This amount will be offered at the Seventh annual Kentucky State Fair, which is scheduled for the week of September 13th to 18th, inclusive. The marvelous piece of work accomplished in the incomparably short time of three months last season, in which the largest, most useful and most beautiful show pavilion in the world, and a permanent grand stand of steel and concrete construction were erected, a model half mile race track was built, and some forty or more buildings of a more temporary nature, for the housing of all livestock, agricultural, horticultural exhibits, etc., were completed, is fresh in the minds of those who witnessed last year's exhibition. With the addition of beautiful road ways, flower beds and installation of electric lights in the pavilion for the use of horse show and hippodrome performances in the evening, the grounds will present a grander and more brilliant spectacle this year. In nearly every department, the number of prizes have been increased and more liberal prizes are offered. This is especially true in the beef, cattle and poultry departments, in each of which the total money offered is probably thirty per cent larger than last year.

The special prizes are much more attractive and represent a greater value than ever before. The honor and prestige of winning many of these trophies is infinitely greater than the intrinsic value of the prize itself. The special prizes include the "Highland Home" cup, which is donated by Gay Bros. of Glasgow, Ky., for the best and most saddle bred foal of 1909; the American saddle horse breeders' association trophy for registered stallion mare three years old or under; the Montgomery chief special of $125 offered by Ball Bros., Versailles, Ky., for the finest and best stallion, mare or gelding any age by Montgomery Chief; the $1,000 Kentucky farmer saddle horse trophy for saddle bred foals of 1909, the only saddle horse trophy in existence, which closed April 1st with 225 nominations; the commissioner of agriculture saddle horse special, value at $200 for the best five gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding three years old or over; a handsome cup for the champion gelding, given by Mr. Basil Doerflinger of Louisville for the best gelding of the best breed of Jack stock offered by Mr. W. F. Hayes of Louisville, Ky.; the grand silver trophy offered by the American Berkshire Swine Association for best young herd of Berkshires exhibited by Kentucky breeder, which is the coveted honor of the show among Berkshire breeders in every state; an aggregate sum of nearly $400 given by Commissioner Rankin for all the leading standard varieties of poultry; a silver cup donated by Mr. F. H. Behring for best exhibit of Kentucky bred poultry; specials by the Southdown Hampshire and Oxford Sheep Record Association for exhibits of pure-bred sheep they respectively champion; and the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association special for the best flock of registered Angora kids.

In the cattle departments the money consideration for specials is the greatest and the classification most extensive. The American Shorthorn Breeders' Association and the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association have each donated $750 for pure bred cattle of these respective breeds, one-half to be given in open competition and one-half to cattle owned by Kentucky exhibitors. These offers were made on condition that the State Fair management would set apart $1,000 in premiums for each of these breeds, which was done, thereby making a total of $1,750 for each breed. This is the largest amount ever offered for either Shorthorns or Herefords at any state fair or exposition south of the Ohio river, and perhaps equals the aggregate prize money at any exhibition in America this year with the exception of the national breed shows. The Polled Durham Association of America renews its offer of $100 in special prizes for Polled Durhams. The American Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association, for the first time in several years, comes forward with a very liberal offer of $200 in specials for its breed. As a very gratifying innovation in the prize list, the Dairy Cattle Department contains some valuable specials. Through the generous liberality of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the State Fair management has been enabled to double the amount of prize money for that breed and to place the closed season contest on a par with the open season contest, which the Holstein-Friesian Breed in the south ever since its importation to this country, and the Kentucky Jersey cattle club will give a cup valued at $50.00 for the best Jersey herd of one bull and four heifers under one year old, bred by a Kentucky exhibitor. There are also numerous specials offered by Hon. M. C. Rankin, commissioner of agricultural departments, the most prominent of which are for county exhibits, $150,000 being offered for the best and largest display of farm, garden and orchard products. This has been a very interesting and educational feature in many of the leading state fairs for a number of years and will undoubtedly prove a success and boon to agricultural interest of Kentucky.

Superintendents of Departments at the Kentucky State Fair.

As usual most experienced and capable superintendents of departments have been appointed. R. H. Lillard, of Lawrenceburg, has for the third time been chosen superintendent of the horse department, and William Simmons, of Shepherdsville, will again be in charge of the mule exhibit. W. R. Moorman, Jr., of Glendene, is superintendent of beef cattle and Edgar Vaughn, of Shelbyville, will for the eighth consecutive year be superintendent in the dairy cattle department. Other superintendents reappointed, are Colonel H. L. Igleheart, of Morganfield, swine department; W. H. Middleton of Shelbyville, sheep and goats; John H. Good, of Louisville, poultry and pigeons; H. Kentucky State Fair Races.

Horse racing will be a greater attraction than ever at the State Fair this year. At last year's fair it was demonstrated that a successful harness race meeting could be held on these grounds. The popularity of the sport was never more pronounced. Unusually fast time was made on the new half-mile track which has come to be regarded as one of the best half-mile courses in America. At the meeting last year the grand stand and the grounds adjacent to it were thronged by a surging mass of humanity every afternoon eager to see every heat in every race, and not until the summary of the last race was hung up did the interest cease or enthusiasm dwindle.

The Kentuckians by nature has a fondness for horse racing. An opportunity for seeing his favorite sport will not be denied him at this year's fair. The early closing events show the largest list of entries ever recorded at the State Fair. These events are known as the Louisville Retail Merchants Association stake for 2:21 pacers, the Louisville Commercial Club stake for 2:20 trotters, and the Kentucky Brewers Association stake for 2:20 trotters. In addition to the stake races, there will be six purse and four gentlemen's road races. Purses entries close Sept. 6th. Entries for the cup race at twelve o'clock noon, the day before the race. The stake races will be on the three in five heat plan and the purse races on the two in three heat plan. There will also be two running races each day. This is destined to become one of the most popular training tracks in the country. This meeting fits into a very convenient circuit by following the Indiana State Fair and proceeding to the Tennessee State Fair which is the initial meeting of the southern circuit of fairs and trotting meetings. The success of this year's meeting is already assured by the excellent list of stake entries, and the management is quite confident that all the prize races will run satisfactorily. For catalog, entry blank or other information, write to W. Newman Secretary, 320 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky.

AEROPLANE RACES AN AUTO

CURTIS' FLYING MACHINE EASILY
BEATS MOTOR CAR.

C. Foster Willard, an Amateur, Makes
Rapid Time and Wins Mile
Race With Ease.

New York, Aug. 10.—C. Foster Willard, who has been making successful flights with Glenn E. Curtiss' aeroplane, had a thrilling race with an automobile while flying near Mineola, L. I.

Willard had made five sweeping circles when he noticed that a motor car 30 feet below him was racing to his landing place. The aeroplane had been covering less than 40 miles an hour, but as the car shot ahead Willard moved up his motor a few points, kept even with the car, and then darted ahead, winning a mile spurt by good margin.

It was his sixteenth successful flight with the Curtiss aeroplane. Flying close to the ground, Willard essayed several times to make a circle about a mile and a half in circumference, but was not able to complete the circle, because of the ground and trees, on which he had not calculated. He made five long curved flights at high speed.

The lengths of the flights varied from seven-tenths of a mile to two miles. In the fourth flight Willard successfully accomplished his first turn, sweeping over the field at a 40-mile clip at a height of 30 feet. He made three complete turns in all, covering two-thirds of a circle.

His feat is considered remarkable, in that he has made only 11 flights. Two hundred persons, many of whom came in automobiles, witnessed his flight. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., was among the spectators.

"HOLY ROLLERS" TO MOVE

East Chattanooga Court Declares Fanatics a Nuisance—Leader
Has a Call.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Justice Parks at East Chattanooga, decided the case of Henager Trim, leader of the "Holy Rollers," declaring the services which Trim conducts a nuisance. Trim was held to the circuit court in bond of $250. Prominent citizens swore that the services ran late into the night and hideous shrieks and curses rent the air.

Some nights ago a mob visited Trim and threatened bodily harm if he did not leave. He declared he remained here on the direct orders of God.

At the conclusion of services late last night Trim announced that he received a manifestation of the Holy Spirit in which he was ordered to abandon Chattanooga and seek new fields.

SUIT FOR 1,000,000 ACRES

Heir of Famous American Naval Hero
Attempts to Recover Large Tract of Ground.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 10.—Litigation has been started here by an heir of John Paul Jones, the famous American naval hero, for about 1,000,000 acres of land near this city. Mrs. Condit, of Paris, France, and an heir of Admiral Jones, asserts she has a deed of trust for the land, given her by other heirs of the naval officer, and Attorney A. Dewey Follett started proceedings to gain possession of the property. The records of this county show that Admiral Jones once owned the land in question, and there seems to be nothing to indicate that it does not now belong to his heirs.

Prince Lvoff on Secret Mission.

New York, Aug. 10.—It was learned here that Prince Lvoff of Moscow has been in this country several days on a mission unknown to the Russian consul general. The prince was one of the three members of the team who refused to sign the revolutionary manifesto to the Russian people issued at Viborg on July 23, 1906, and who upheld Emperor Nicholas in his solving parliament.

BOTH SIDES REST

IN THAW HEARING

WHITE'S SLAYER IS HOPEFUL
THAT HE WILL BE FREE
NEXT THURSDAY.

MRS. THAW WAS FINAL WITNESS

Evidence Closes With Dramatic Outburst by Mother—Her Last Words
Were a Denunciation of District Attorney Jerome.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Harry K. Thaw's latest struggle to regain his freedom will end to-day. The submission of testimony in his hearing before Justice Isaac N. Mills closed Friday afternoon and all that remains is the final arguments of the attorneys. Justice Mills will file his decision with the county clerk on the morning of Thursday, August 12.

Several possibilities confront Thaw. The court may grant his plea and make him absolutely free. It may decide that he has not established his sanity, and refuse to interfere, in which case, the state authorities will probably send him back to Matteawan hospital for the criminal insane. But Justice Mills has further discretionary powers. He may feel that the young man's mental condition is still in doubt and for that reason delay a final order, meanwhile paroling Thaw in the custody of some officer or possibly on his own recognizance in the care of his family, or he may declare Thaw insane, but, moved by his mother's complaint regarding his surroundings at Matteawan, send him to some other state hospital not populated by criminals.

Thaw Always Hopeful.

Thaw left the court room with jaunty step. The strain of the past four weeks, during which he has submitted personally to fourteen hours of cross examination, was not apparent either in his face or his bearing. At no time during the proceedings has he expressed but satisfaction with the results and confidence in the success of his cause.

"I am sure," he said, "that I shall be free."

The evidence presented in behalf of Thaw closed with a dramatic outburst by his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, who was the final witness. Her last words were a denunciation of District Attorney Jerome. Earlier in the day she had read a list of names distinguished in New York society. They were guests, she said, at a dinner she gave in New York which Harry attended before his marriage. In concluding her testimony, she referred to this list of names.

MILLIONAIRE BREWER ILL

Adolphus Busch of St. Louis Reported in a Serious Condition Near Mayence, Germany.

Paris, Aug. 7.—The report reached Paris that Adolphus Busch, the St. Louis millionaire, was very ill in Germany.

The following telegram was received from Conrad Uhl, proprietor of the Hotel Bristol at Berlin:

"Adolphus Busch very ill. He will never get back to America."

The latest report is that Busch was unable to take his usual cure at Carlsbad, and was removed to his German home, Villa Lili, at Lange Schwalbeck, near Mayence, where he now is. He has been in ill health for some time. Early in July, Mr. Busch celebrated his 76th birthday at Carlsbad, and at that time the Grand Duke of Hesse conferred upon him the title of commercial counselor.

Adolphus Busch founded and is now sole proprietor of the Anheuser Busch Brewing company at St. Louis. He was born in Mayence, Germany, in 1829, and came to this country when 18 years old.

WINES AND CIGARS.

Wine experts are now busy with the 1904 champagnes, which have matured, and will be first drunk this summer.

"Neither chemistry nor terminology," said a wine expert, "can show us wherein a superb wine differs from a commonplace one."

"A vintage champagne—a '95 or 1900 champagne, say—comes out of a chemical analysis exactly like a 1901 champagne, yet the latter is neither palatable nor costly, while the former has a superb flavor and raises in value 20 or 25 per cent. every year."

"Nor can the language describe those elusive qualities that make a wine rare. We say a wine is 'tawny,' or 'fruity,' or 'rich,' or 'fragrant,' or 'velvety,' or 'of fine farewell.' Those words, really, mean nothing."

"Chemistry and terminology fail with tobacco in the same way. There are no words to tell wherein a dollar cigar differs from a nickel one, and the rankest story at the chemist's hands yields the same analysis as the choicest Vuelta Abajo from the knicker's cabinet."

BLACKMAIL.

Jobnny—Come on, Billy, let's have a puff, and I won't tell you was smoking.

Not Yet.
We are a most persistent crew.
Where is that white
Rhinoceus?

A Suggestion.

Myer—The women of our town have organized an association, the object of which is the protection of the butterfly.

Gyer—The association should also encourage the making of buckwheat cakes.

Myer—Why so?

Gyer—Because, according to the ancient jokes, they make the butter fly.

A Slight Jolt.

Sapleigh—I'm—aw—heavily foad of—aw—following the hounds, doncher know?

Miss Cayenne—I inferred as much from what papa said.

Sapleigh—Weally? And what did youah—er—fawthab say?

Miss Cayenne—Oh, he said you seemed to be going to the dogs.

Told the Truth.

Knox—There goes young De Short in Jay Greene's automobile.

Crox—Why, I thought De Smart owned it? He told me not an hour ago that he had put all his money into it.

Knox—Well, he probably told the truth. He bought 50 cents' worth of gasoline before he started.

Different Here.

Church—I see that Sweden, Norway, Iceland, and Denmark have given the municipal franchise to women.

Gotham—Oh, well, they're a long way from the Howery!—Yonkers Statesman.

What's the Use.

"My husband wrote a poem roasting the new bee hive hats."

"But I see you wear one of them yourself?"

"Yes, I bought it with the money he got for the poem."

Not Impossible.

The Topper—You must have had an awful fright when you awoke and found the place burning.

The Trilby—My dear feller, vy I vos as vite as your shirt—no, viter than that!—The Sketch.

Tight-Rolled.

"I got onto a car yesterday that was crowded by women in tube gowns."

"Must have looked funny."

"It did; it looked like a package of cigarettes."

No Resting.

Yeast—Does you wite ever sit with her chin resting on her knees?

Crimsonbeak—No; my wife seldom sits with her chin resting at all.—Yonkers Statesman.

Insurance.

Alice—Ethel tells me she is engaged to Jack. Do you think she really means to marry him?

Kate—Not if she can get anybody else.

The Editor Had One.

The Post—Is there a literary club in this vicinity?

The Editor—There is. Are you literary?

Nothing to Lose.

"Who is that fellow shouting for an income tax?"

"Loafly! He will ruin a boarding house while he talks politics."

RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION.

Chicago's Greatest Amusement Enterprise Completed at a Cost of $5,000,000.

None of Chicago's other marvelous achievements equal the great amusement enterprise it has just launched, RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION.

This exposition surpasses everything of its character since the original World's Fair. Five million dollars was expended to make it a crowning gem in Chicago's coronet of beautiful parks. Last season 7,600,000 persons visited the exposition. This year it will accommodate 10,000,000. A trip to Chicago would be incomplete without a visit there.

RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION surpasses Caesar's ancient Circus Maximus where 5,000 dancers entertained Rome. Five thousand dancers could be set in any one of its aquatic, e-plinades, causeways or wooded groves. That many show girls, trick riders, Indians and cowboys are used in its "Frontier Day Fetes" alone.

Twice as many are accommodated in the amphitheater, where Mexican bull fights occur. Wild bulls and during Toradora daily enact thrilling contests for life and death. A Spanish band of 100 pieces showcases the music. Many military bands render open air concerts. The industrial exhibit includes wireless telegraphy, flying machines, dirigible balloons, airplanes and other mechanical marvels.

RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION'S matchless attraction is "The Creation." This stupendous scenic spectacle is animated by brilliant characters of the Garden of Eden, is destined to attract world-wide attention. It is the product of the genius of E. W. Schuchman, builder of several world's fairs, and his staff of a hundred artists.

The scene is the Valley of the Euphrates, where tradition locates Eden. Awe-dropping views of Eden in its production as man may conceive. The great religious drama closely follows the Scriptures.

"There is first a void, then darkness, dawn and light, separation of the sky, the earth and the waters, the beginning of life in the air and the water, birds and fishes, creeping and crawling things, celestial anthems of spirit hands; the creation of Adam and Eve, their temptation, transgression and expulsion by Angel Gabriel, who drives them forth with a flaming sword."

A great $25,000 pipe organ produces appropriate music. Its 400 tubes produce thunder and its 100,000 notes, the mimicry of forest and field. Flashes of lightning and angry storms are made by electrical and water effects. Space worlds an adequate description of this magnificent spectacle.

Another great novelty is "The Races," an English pantomime. Fifty horses are led to charges raise over the highway to Coventry.

RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION'S "Court of Honor" has never been equaled since the Ancient Hanging Gardens of Babylon. Its center is a lagoon of crystal water, through which flash myriads of silver and gold fish. The lagoon edges are fringed with emerald lawns and in rows of stately Lombardy poplars. Cascade fountains play prismatic sprays high overhead and cooling mists float downward into the lagoon. Fantastic facades and white pavilions gleam through the trees as a marble setting for the beautiful.

"Over Niagara Falls" reproduces on a mammoth scale the famous waterfalls.

The inspiring strands of great bands, earlier tones of orchestras, sounds of movement from joyous throngs, sunlit waters and fountains, ray show-places, the whir of aerial ships and flying machines, whistles of miniature railroads, regulation of the animals of "Circus D'Arche," clanging in bands, the familiar "roosting" enthusiasm in the bandstand, the silent onward movement of the river that courses through the great park, and millions of activities that impart pleasure, mystery and delight make RIVERVIEW EXPOSITION a place of magic, the like of which the world has never seen.
